INTERESTING DISCUSSION.

MEETING OF THE FARMERS' CLUB OF WASH-

[From the Reporter, of yesterday.]

In pursuance of adjournment, the Farmers' Club met at the Valentine House, on Saturday last. The President being ab-farmers to sell off a portion of their stock rather than buy feed at the present high prices. It was betier to keep a smaller number well, than a large number and have them poorly fee. The largest por-tion of the crop of corn was soft, and if not fed out in the course of a month from the present time it would be lost altogethstock in as good condition as they should be through the winter. He had one hundred fat weathers now, but was satisfied they could not be kept so till next spring without feeding something else than hay.

Dr. Huffman followed and agreed with Mr. Stream as to the scarcity of feed for stock. He thought in all probability corn would be very dear before Spring, but would advise the farmers not to sacrifice their cattle and sheep as they had their hogs. If the next season should prove favorable we should need all the stock we have—he thought it best that the farmers should hold on to their sheep until they got the wool off and thus save what money hey could in this way.

Mn. Ganny thought there was no great cause for alarm. In his opinion the country was as well off as at this time last year with fhe exception of wheat, and perhaps corn. In lieu of these however, we have,

It was true the hay crop was a little short bought at 50 cents per bushel. He had also seen as good corn as he had ever met with in Wheeling which could be had at the same price, an it could be shipped to Washington for 13 cents per bundred

PROF. BREWER spoke of the manner in which sheep are kept in the nor,hern part of the State of New York. He said they were mostly kept on coarse feed during oals, clover and timothy straw. These housed, and so were the slicep. He though seould be well sheltered from the cold, as by this means a great deal less feed will

The solid service, long and successfully tried, and the many advantages the Æina Insurance Company possesses in its line should not be overlooked by those ready to insure and understanding their best interests.

Tarring "stringent times" the necessity for reliable insurance becomes an imperative duty—the shiftly of property owners to sustain loss being then much lessened.
